Headteacher's Blog

The Christmas season has well and truly begun in school. So far this week we've had a wonderful Christingle Service from Years 3 and 4 which Rev Chris attended. They read and sang beautifully. Yesterday afternoon Year 5 and 6 performed their Carol Service. The standard of singing and solo performances was so high. I'm sure those of you who attended felt very proud! We look forward to our Infant performances next week! As we head towards the end of term, learning will still be taking place as we try to keep as many routines as possible in place for the children.

There is a school post box available so children can post Christmas cards to their friends. Please ensure the cards have the children's name AND class on so all cards can be delivered! I'd like to say a big thank you to the PTFA for the events they have run over the past week. The fair and Christmas shop have proved very popular!
