in Hospital

Exclusive Report by BB Wolf

Happy Humpty fell off his wall near to London Bridge on Saturday 6th October 2018, at 11am in the morning.

Ambulances and Paramedics arrived from Kings Hospital to help helpless Humpty, but after several minutes attempting to unscramble Mr. Dumpty and put him back together, he was taken to the specialist egg unit at Kings Hospital, to try and save his life.

Dr N. Rhymes, a specialist surgeon said 'Mr Dumpty is in a stable condition but is getting 24 hour care after a cracking fall'

We hope Humpty will make an egg-selent recovery and be back on his wall in no time.
