Let's recap...

What is your new
English topic?

Let's recap...

What is the purpose of a myth?

What are the key features of a myth?

WALT: Edit and improve writing

S2S:

- I can identify where S2S are met
- I can use a thesaurus to make improvements
- I can self-assess critically

Let's remind ourselves of yesterday's writing and S2S – do you think you were successful? Why or why not?

WALT: Improve the beginning of a story

S2S

- I can create an engaging beginning
- I can include rich vocabulary
- I can write extended sentences

Today we are going to edit and improve our writing by focussing on your WALT & S2S from yesterday to make sure that you are successful today.

First draft- could be better

Once upon a time there were two Gods. They were Tepeu and Gucamatz. They had sparkling green and blue feathers and they came together to create the world. Whatever they thought of appeared.

Second draft-much better!

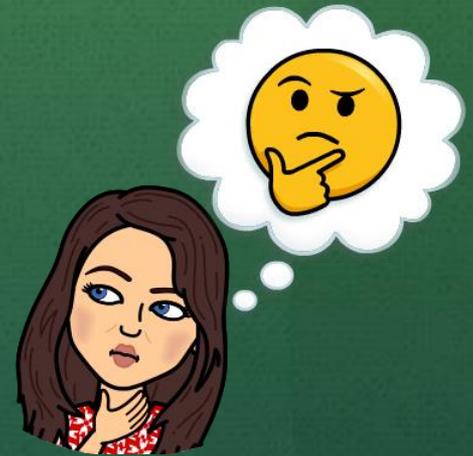

Long before the world was created there were two beautiful and magical Gods named Tepeu and Gucumatz. Tepeu was the maker, he was extremely clever and was willing to turn the dull world into an enchanting place. Gucumatz was the feathered spirit who glistened with green and blue feathers. These two almighty Gods came together to turn an unsightly planet into a wonderful world that today we called Earth. Within seconds, perfect pine trees, mesmerising mountains and crystal clear waters appeared.

Word bank Time!

To help us edit and improve let's create a word bank of words and phrases for:

- First sentence opener
- Gucumatz
- Tepeu
- The world before it was created
- The world once it was created

Edit and improve yesterday's writing by re-writing your opening paragraph and using the steps to success to support you!
