

Around 450,000 BC
Palaeolithic (Old Stone Age)
People lived in caves
They were hunter gathers

Around 25,000 BC
The Ice Age
The land and sea was covered in sheets of ice

Around 12,000 BC
Ice Age ended

Around 8,000 BC
Mesolithic (Middle Stone Age)
People were still hunter gathers but had better tools

Around 4,000 BC to 2,500 BC

Neolithic (New Stone Age)

The people of the New Stone Age still used stone for tools but also learned how to train animals and grow crops.

They lived in settlements.